

DR. WILBUR R. CRAFTS DELIVERS LECTURE

Effort Was Masterpiece And Was Heard With Great Interest By Those Present.

Dr. Wilbur R. Crafts, Superintendent of the International Reform Bureau, delivered an able lecture on "Battles Won and Battles On In State and Nation," at the First Presbyterian church on Tuesday. Only a small crowd was present, for the address, which was one of the ablest ever delivered in this city.

Dr. Crafts bears an international reputation as a reform worker, and his address along this line was heard with great interest.

Thoroughly informed as he is with reference to all national legislation especially that bearing on moral issues, his resume of what had been accomplished in the fight against gambling, impurity, Sabbath breaking and intemperance, was an inspiration and an assurance of ultimate victory.

He called attention to the fact that Kentucky is one of eight states that still permits race track gambling. There is only one state and the District of Columbia that have Sunday laws.

The fight against impunity as a national issue must be mainly against the divorce evil. There would be no advantage in a uniform divorce law unless it be on the high plane of the New York law which recognizes only one rightful cause for divorce.

The great temperance fight for the nation is the Sheppard-Kenyon bill now pending in Congress which prohibits the shipment of liquor into dry states or territory for unlawful purposes.

By banners, flags of a score of different nations stretched across the front of the church, he showed how many nations are united in the fight against opium and alcohol, as to its shipment to the uncivilized peoples of the world.

He warned the temperance people especially of the awful blunder they make in putting wet men in office to enforce dry legislation and that laws passed meant not the winning but the beginning of the fight. In closing he urged all voters to send cards to Congressmen, importuning them to take an active interest in the passage of the bill before Congress.

PREPARATIONS FOR "THE CITY BEAUTIFUL"

Confederate Veterans to Hold Reunion in Macon in May to Be Royally Entertained.

When the Confederate Veterans gather in Macon for their annual encampment to renew once more the vows of friendship given each other in the dark days of the war between the states, the city will be a garden of flowers. Every color of the rainbow will meet the eyes of the heroes of Dixieland.

When the plans of the "City Beautiful" committee are executed Macon will be clothed in a dress of lovely blossoms. Her parks, walks, driveways, lawns and plazas will be one mass of changing hues. Even back yards will be turned into gardens.

Resolved to carry out some new and novel ideas, the "City Beautiful" committee is preparing special designs to use where most appropriate. Flowers, flowers, flowers, Macon will be just one beautiful bouquet when the committee has finished its work.

The basement of one of the largest buildings in the city has been rented and seed will be stored there until planted. Mr. Cecil Morgan, chairman of the "City Beautiful" committee has written to every member of Congress representing a Southern district asking that seed be sent here as soon as possible. Thousands of packages of seed—from which will spring every flower blooming in May—should be in the hands of the committee in the next three weeks.

Enthusied by the fact that they have been asked to help boost the Re-Union, the school children of Macon have agreed to assist in beautifying the city. Seed will be delivered to the several school houses and distributed among the pupils, just as soon as it reaches here.

The "City Beautiful" scheme is but one of the many plans the Re-Union Committee is considering.

MYRIADS OF FISH SEEN BY JUDGE BENTON

Winchester's Other Noted Fishermen Are Made to Look Like Thirty Cents by Marvelous Story.

Since Judge Benton returned from Barboursville Wednesday afternoon, where he had been acting as Special Judge, he has been regaling Oscar Johnson, Jim Furniture Winn, Squire Hunter, Henry Bush and other fishing cronies with a remarkable fish story.

The Cumberland river runs through Barboursville and the heavy rains lasting from Sunday at noon till Monday night had made a big tide in the river, and by noon Tuesday the river was a sure enough stream and was very muddy.

The town branch empties into the river, and at noon Tuesday Judge Benton went to the depot to send an important telegram to Judge Evans—what it was about we don't know—possibly it related to the new jail—he saw that the river had backed up the clear water of the town branch, and he imagined that this bayou must be full of fish that had come into this clear water to escape the mud of the river.

Fishing tackle was procured at the hotel to give this water a try-out. On the first cast the bait was taken not simply with a nibble, but with a lunge, and something that was sure heavy had taken it, but when an effort was made to draw in the victim escaped.

While rebaiting the hook Judge Benton happened to look intently into the water, and found it just teeming with fish, all sorts of fish, big fish, little fish, medium sized fish, pike, bass, new lights, bream, cats, kittens and every conceivable fish: some of them as large as a half grown boy.

There were enough fish floundering in that bayou to supply Prewitt Harris for a year, and they were larger than the ones he gets from Reelfoot Lake. Jim Poynter and Cliff Owens never caught as many fish on one of their best days at Muddy Creek. The catfish were larger and more plentiful than the ones that Malcolm Royce and Uncle Bill Harris catch at the reservoir by moonlight. There were more fish there than Jim Winn and Doctor Stubblefield ever saw or dreamed of in Alabama.

The fish stories and pictures that Henry Phillips and Dwight Pendleton bring home from Florida look like thirty cents when compared with that mass of squirming monsters, big and little, in that town branch of Barboursville last Tuesday.

The second bait that was thrown in was grabbed as soon as it hit the water and a bream as large as a ginger snap was successfully landed. This scared all the other fish away.

This is a true account of what Judge Benton did, and the vision that he saw in a dream Tuesday night.

M'GIBBEN PURCHASES RED BIRD'S DAUGHTER

New York Dealer Gets Classy Saddle From Matlack & Shropshire, of Winchester.

The New York dealer W. A. McGibbon, who has been in Kentucky for some days past in quest of some high-class three-gaited saddle horses, added another select one to list Wednesday when he bought a 15.1 chestnut mare from the widely-known Winchester dealers, Matlack & Shropshire.

Mr. McGibbon says she is one of the best he has ever handled. The mare is a daughter of Red Bird and is a Southern Kentucky bred mare, having been purchased by Mr. Shropshire at Lebanon from Dr. Cleveland some weeks ago.

Mrs. Hall was much loved by a large number of friends and relatives. The bereaved loved ones, a true and tender sympathy is extended.

DIRECT PRIMARY LAW PASSED AT FRANKFORT

Presidential Preference Clause is Stricken Out Because of News of Supporters of Taft.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 1.—The Thompson Direct Primary Law passed the House and the Eaton Direct Primary Law passed the Senate Wednesday. The former passed by the vote of ayes 87, nays 0, while the latter received a vote of ayes 37, nays 0. As soon as the Thompson bill goes to the Senate and the Eaton Bill goes to the House, a joint conference committee appointed to draft a bill that will be acceptable to both branches of the General Assembly and the direct primary bill will be passed. The Presidential preference clause was stricken from the Thompson Bill before the passage.

The passage of the measures was attended by many stirring incidents, as there was a determined opposition on the part of a number of Senators to the bills in the House and the Senate principally because, it is presumed, they thought that a delay of the passage of the bills would aid in passing other desired measures.

Opposed By The Cities. The most determined opposition came from the Senators and Representatives living in the large cities, with Senator Huffaker in the Senate as the leader. Every amendment offered by the opposition in the Senate was voted down, however, and the Eaton Bill came out of the parliamentary battle unscathed, while the Thompson Bill was only stripped of the sections providing for the selection of delegates to the National Convention, and the expression of presidential preferences in the primaries. The Eaton bill contained no such provisions.

The opposition used every means possible to delay passage or recommend the bill in the Senate, but when it was finally put on its passage the opponents of the bill voted for it.

Bank Bill Recommended. The Banking Committee reported favorably bill 58, to provide a system of state bank examinations, and creating the office of Banking Commissioner.

House bill 134, by Emanuel Meyer, to prohibit white slave traffic, was reported favorably and advanced.

The Fish and Game Committee reported favorably bill 61 to create a State Board of Forestry.

The Mahin bill, 104, to prevent foreign shows during country fair week in any county was next in order. It was passed.

There were determined efforts both in the Senate and House to except local officers in counties having cities of the first-class from the bill. Personalities came near being indulged in by the Senators from Jefferson county, but they were avoided and the passage of the bill was effected without personal bitterness.

Senator Thomas said it was not a question of blocking legislation; that if legislation was being blocked, it was known who was blocking it. He said it was a question of doing what the people sent the members here to do. He said there should be no more delays and he wanted the principle put into a law. He added that Senator Salmon had hit the nail on the head in saying that the time had come when the poor man should have his rights.

Motion to Recommit Lost. The motion to recommit the bill was lost—ayes 8, nays 26.

Those voting yea—L. W. Arnett, Bagby, Bosworth, Dowling, Helm, Hubble, Huffaker, Ryan.

Nays—B. M. Arnett, Bale, Beard, Berkshire, Bertman, Biggerstaff, Brown (Cattlett not voting), Chipman, Coburn, Eaton, Frost, Glenn, Graham, Hogg, Holman, Marshal, Mathers, Moody, Newcomb, Pritchard, Salmon, Saunders, Scott, Thomas, (Trichenor and Tunis not voting), Welch.

Yeas 8; nays, 26.

When it was seen that the bill could not be recommitted then the fight was made to get through the amendments that would destroy the usefulness of the bill, but this plan was defeated as each amendment was voted down except those offered by Senator Eaton providing that school trustees be not nominated under this law. The bill then passed 37 to 0.

Interests Combine For Bill.

The big surprise of the session, Wednesday was the combination of all the interests to put across the bill devised by the Prison Commission. The administration forces were shattered by three Senators being absent. Senator Durham is ill at his rooms in the hotel here. Senator Thomas, with his characteristic thoughtfulness, had passed a resolution offering sympathy for Senator Durham. Senator Biggerstaff is ill also, and Senator Helm had not arrived.

As suddenly as if the Capitol had been hit by a bolt of lightning, the coupe of the interests was attempted and several Senators became a party to it innocently.

Prison Bill Called. Senator Graham moved that the rules be suspended, and called for Senate bill 42, the Graham prison bill, and put it on its passage. The bill provides for the election of prison commissioners from the railroad districts.

Senator Thomas said that he thought that snap judgment was being taken and the purpose of the bill was to thwart the wishes of the people of the state, and that it was the idea of the Prison Commission.

Senator L. W. Arnett made a point of order that Senator Dowling was not talking to the subject. President McDermott held that he was and Senator Dowling continued with his speech, saying he had no favorite for prison commissioner, and while talking the hour for the special order arrived and the filibuster was finished.

Chairman Meager Calls Meeting at Frankfort Because of Protests Against The Cantrill Primary.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 1.—So vigorous have been the protests of the Democrats of the Seventh Congressional District against the snap primary of Congressman J. Campbell Cantrill that the primary may be called off. Following is the call issued Wednesday by M. J. Meagher, of this city, chairman of the committee:

"Owing to the protests made by the Democrats of Fayette, Bourbon and Woodford counties, in mass meeting assembled, and to the dissatisfaction manifested by Democrats generally throughout the Seventh Congressional District against the call made by the Committee for the primary fixed for March 16th, next, to nominate a Democratic candidate for Congress, you are requested and hereby notified to be present at a meeting of the Democratic District Committee for the Seventh Congressional District to pass upon the advisability of rescinding the call for the primary set for March 16, 1912, and for such other business as may come before the Committee.

"The Committee will meet at the Capital Hotel in Frankfort, Ky., on Monday, February 5, 1912, at 11 o'clock a. m."

It was reported here Wednesday night that Congressman Cantrill has paid his entrance fee to the chairman of the primary sub-committee, Robert H. Anderson, of Scott county, and that he claims that because of that fact the District Committee has no right to rescind its call for the primary of March 16th.

REMARKABLE POWER OF NIAGARA FALLS

Not One Person in Hundreds Begins to Understand The Tremendous Conservation of Natural Resources.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Feb. 1.—The average man is apt to speak very glibly of so many hundred thousand horsepower harnessed at Niagara Falls, but it is doubtful if one person in a hundred begins to understand the tremendous conservation of natural resources effected at the Falls without interfering with the grandeur of the spectacle.

The 372,800 horsepower now developed at the Falls is the equivalent of 16,776,000 man-power working an eight hour day, or more than the combined strength of all able-bodied men in the United States.

Under the American-Canadian Treaty, promulgated by the two nations to guard the scenic beauty of the Falls for all time, only 56,000 cubic feet of water per second, out of a total flow of 240,000 cubic feet, may be diverted from the Niagara River for power purposes. But even with this restriction, when the treaty goes into effect the force conserved by falling water will be the equivalent of 35,559,000 men working the average eight-hour day.

Stupendous although this saving is, it is as nothing compared to the full strength of the Falls. The volume of water that will be permitted to run, so as to perpetuate the beauty of the Falls, is estimated to represent 118,680,000 eight-hour man power or about 18,000,000 more man power than there are men, women and children in the United States and all its possessions.

During the exercises, one man from each state affected by Dr. Knapp's work will outline the marvelous influences exerted by this man who worked for the South to the last day of his life.

COMMITTEE IN SEVENTH MAY RESCIND ITS ACTION

Chairman Meager Calls Meeting at Frankfort Because of Protests Against The Cantrill Primary.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 1.—So vigorous have been the protests of the Democrats of the Seventh Congressional District against the snap primary of Congressman J. Campbell Cantrill that the primary may be called off. Following is the call issued Wednesday by M. J. Meagher, of this city, chairman of the committee:

"Owing to the protests made by the Democrats of Fayette, Bourbon and Woodford counties, in mass meeting assembled, and to the dissatisfaction manifested by Democrats generally throughout the Seventh Congressional District against the call made by the Committee for the primary fixed for March 16th, next, to nominate a Democratic candidate for Congress, you are requested and hereby notified to be present at a meeting of the Democratic District Committee for the Seventh Congressional District to pass upon the advisability of rescinding the call for the primary set for March 16, 1912, and for such other business as may come before the Committee.

"The Committee will meet at the Capital Hotel in Frankfort, Ky., on Monday, February 5, 1912, at 11 o'clock a. m."

It was reported here Wednesday night that Congressman Cantrill has paid his entrance fee to the chairman of the primary sub-committee, Robert H. Anderson, of Scott county, and that he claims that because of that fact the District Committee has no right to rescind its call for the primary of March 16th.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 1.—After having sent representatives to call upon Dr. W. P. Roberts at his home at Greendale Wednesday night and having received from him a flat refusal to call a meeting of the Fayette Democratic Committee, of which he is chairman to meet in the office of the Fayette county judge next Saturday morning for the purpose of considering the vote cast by Dr. Roberts as the member from Fayette county of the Seventh District Congressional Committee, for the holding of a Congressional primary on March 16, next, nine of the seventeen members of the Fayette County Democratic Committee, constituting a quorum thereof, and acting in accordance with the party law issued a call over the head of the chairman for a meeting Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. The committee has the right, under the Democratic party law, to remove Dr. Roberts from the chairmanship and probably will do so.

The four educational divisions of the county furnished pupils for the graduate examination as follows:

Division No. 1—10 pupils.
Division No. 4—9 pupils.
Division No. 2—8 pupils.

FRIENDSHIP WORTH WHILE

An enduring friendship is one of the possessions we should prize most in this day of selfish greed, personal ambition and business hogwash. Mark Twain makes Pudd'n head Wilson say that "Friendship is one of the redeeming traits of human character." Mark goes on to say that "some friendships are of so strong and abiding and enduring a nature that they have been known to last a whole lifetime—if not asked to lend money."

Of course Mark was joking, as he joked to his last breath. What we started out to say was that there are modern Damons and Pythias, just as unselfish, just as true, just as sincere as those heroes of old Syracuse to whom no sacrifice was too great that the one would not make it for the other. Our friends are known to us by the sacrifices they make for us, by the kindly deeds they do, by the words of encouragement they speak in times when such words help more than those who have never needed them can know.

An unselfish and sincere friendship is something to be valued, to be cherished, to be appreciated. Especially is this true of those who have been tested and have proved their worth, and these are by no means few in spite of the rush for wealth and fame of the present day. Marc Anthony spoke in volumes over the bier of Caesar when he said:

"He was my friend, faithful and just to me."

The fame of his oration over the body of his dead friend will last as long as types print that great speech. Anthony with all his weaknesses, remembered his friend and his remembrance of that friend is now his chief claim to greatness. Let's all be Marc Anthonys in that respect.

ADMIRATION FOR A FIGHTER.

The world loves a fighter. The man, or the woman either, for that matter, who stands up squarely in the battle of life, giving and taking the blows of fate, gets there some time and wins the admiration of right thinking people in doing so. Even the repulsive and ugly and vicious prize-fighter becomes an object of admiration if the following, perpetrated by the New York American, can be believed:

His nose was flattened, and his ears were tin;

His left eye squinted, and his right sunk in;

He hadn't much hair, and he hadn't much chin—

But gosh! How he could fight!

His head was dented, and out of plumb;

His hands were busted, and on the "bum;

He couldn't hear well, and was slightly dumb—

But gosh! How he could fight!

He couldn't read, and he couldn't spell;

He couldn't count (which was just as well);

But he had a swing that swung from the bell—

Great gosh! How he could fight!

His feet were big, and his legs were slim;

His body was fat, and it wouldn't trim;

He frightened children by the looks of him—

THE BOYS' WORK INSTITUTE

A group of Central Kentucky's finest and best men have at much trouble and expense planned a series of Boys' Work Institutes, which are now being held in the towns of Central Kentucky. One of these is to be held in our city, Saturday and Sunday.

Winchester should get much good from these meetings. Boys' Work problems of Winchester will be discussed. We have them, too, and we are not so sure that the problem lies with the boys always. Do our older people have the interest in work for boys that they should? Isn't it true that the majority of us have more care concerning the improvement of our live stock, of our farms and houses, than we have for our boys?

The superficialities of life make such large demands upon us that we do not have the time to be companions to our boys and help them fight out the battles of their youth.

The future of Winchester depends upon the crop of boys we raise. Ambitious, manly Christian boys make men who do things. The greatest wealth that any town or country can boast of is the progressive men in that community who do big things. Let us give more attention to the improvement of our chief asset, the boys. Attend the meetings Saturday night and Sunday and learn about the best methods of Boys' Work, methods that have been successful in other towns like Winchester.

PURE MILK

The state pure food authorities at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station reported Tuesday to County Attorney Scott Bullitt, of Louisville, sixty-five cases for selling watered or skimmed milk against dairymen supplying Louisville and certain restaurants. These cases resulted from the extensive inspections that have recently been made throughout the whole of the Louisville milk field and other parts of Kentucky.

The samples were collected from the milk depots, the dairymen, the restaurants, the hotels and other places where milk is served, and when a sample was found to be watered or skimmed, further investigation was made to determine who was responsible. About 700 samples were analyzed in Louisville and 65 cases reported for prosecution. In most instances the milk was taken from the dairymen's herds to determine how much water had been added to the milk as supplied by the dairymen's cows.

Red Cross Dairy (Phone 889-x.) supplies to patrons a pure, clean, and sanitary Holstein and grade Jersey milk; not watered.

A WARNING AGAINST WET FEET

Wet and chilled feet usually affect the mucous membrane of the nose. Rhinocyst and Jungs, and la grippe, bronchitis or pneumonia may result. Watch carefully, particularly the children, and for the racking stubborn coughs give Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It soothes the inflamed membranes, and heals the coughs quickly. Mrs. A. A. Swagel, Kroll, Wis., says: "It always gives Foley's Honey and Tar Compound to my children. It cures their coughs and colds and they like to take it."

EVEN THE BIRDIE

Master Theodore Phillips, the manly little son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Phillips, had always longed for at little cousin or relative of his own age as a playmate.

When news of the arrival of D. D. Peele, Jr., at the home of Prof. and Mrs. D. D. Peele, at Columbia, S. C., reached here, Master Phillips was wild with delight, and when his cousin burst forth in joyous melody, he cried happily, "Just listen, won't you? Even the birdie is singing 'Dee! Dee!'"

THE SWEETEST GIRL IN PARIS

To Appear in Lexington on February 3, Matinee and Night.—Able Cast Accompanies Her.

Cathryn Rowe Palmer is the name of a comic actress only slightly familiar to theatregoers, although she has a long series of hits to her credit in the East. It is thought that her name will be better known and the actress, herself, better appreciated after she appears in Lexington February 3, matinee and night, as Chief Support to Trixie Friganza in "The Sweetest Girl in Paris," the new extravaganza which Harry Askin is sending to this city.

Miss Palmer is a rarity among our actresses, inasmuch as she is something more than the mere eccentric sourette who depends upon a comic make-up alone to get her laughs. She has a strong, true sense of character; and it has been said of her acting that behind and beneath her most extravagant exhibitions is a feeling for life and an observation of things as they are that combine to give a real artistic value to everything she undertakes. Miss Palmer's chief success to date outside New York was made in "The Merry-Go-Round," in which she was co-star with Raymond Hitchcock in the season of 1908-09.

JAMES H. TURLEY DIES IN MT. STERLING

Had Been Ill of Bright's Disease.—Was Highly Respected And Esteemed Citizen.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., Feb. 1.—Mr. James H. Turley died at his home at Sideview, Montgomery county, Tuesday night, of acute Bright's disease. Mr. Turley had only been ill about five weeks and was on the streets of Mt. Sterling last courtyard. He was a merchant at Sideview, and looked after his farming interests. Mr. Turley was 45 years of age, and was the son of the late Amos Turley, of this county. He is survived by his wife and four children. Mr. Turley leaves an estate valued at $25,000. The burial will take place in Macphelah cemetery, Thursday afternoon.

While Mrs. James Douglas, of Plum Lick, was getting dinner her little son got hold of some matches, and lighting one, pulled open a bureau drawer, and threw the match in the contents. The bureau and all its contents were destroyed and it was only by hard work that the residence was saved from complete destruction.

Mr. Albert Norris, of Owingsville, Bath county, and Miss Bertha Foley, of this county, eloped to Ironton, Ohio, and were married. They went to Ashland on a bridal trip. Mr. Norris is a prominent and successful young farmer, and his bride, who is a daughter of Mrs. Mollie Foley, of the Stoops neighborhood, is an attractive young woman.

State Chairman Henry R. Prewitt, of this city, Wednesday received the official call for the Democratic National Convention, and will call a meeting of the Democratic State Executive Committee about the time the Legislature adjourns to decide on the method, time and manner in which the districts and the State-at-large will be chosen for the national meeting.

HOW COLD AFFECTS

THE KIDNEYS.

Avoid taking cold if your kidneys are sensitive. Cold congests the kidneys, throws too much work upon them, and weakens their action. Serious kidney trouble and even Bright's disease may result. Strengthen your kidneys, get rid of the pain and soreness, build them up by the timely use of Foley Kidney Pills. They will cure any case of kidney or bladder trouble not beyond the reach of medicine. No medicine can do more.
